The 1958 graduating class of Benton Harbor High School held its 50th reunion this weekend and what a glorious event it was. 50th Reunion Weekend co-chairs Barbara Peeples and Donna Dettman Janke put together a reunion that all who attended will certainly never forget. Over 100 graduates attended the reunion and according to Co-Chair Peeples, those who had to travel described the weekend as being “worth the plane fare.”

The weekend started on Friday evening with a potluck, hayride and bonfire at James Higbee’s Centennial Family Farm in Benton Harbor. The locomotive for the hayride was a tractor and according to co-chair Barbara Peeples, the approximately 100 attendees had a great time. James Higbee is the sixth generation Higbee to own the 170 year old fruit farm. His family actually purchased the land from the U.S. government two years before Michigan became a state.

Saturday’s events began with a guided bus tour, which included some of the elementary schools, as well as the Harbor Shores site and lunch at Benton Harbor High School where attendees were given a

50 YEARS AND STILL GOING STRONG!
Loving from a Distance

Right now, today, I want you to go directly to the Mendel Center and purchase your ticket to “Lockdown Legacy” – the play, that is appearing on September 20 and 21 at the Hanson Theatre at Lake Michigan College.

The cast includes some Benton Harbor natives, but the message is even closer to home for so many of us.

Have you been there? Do you have a love one there? Many of us all can answer yes. You know the collect calls, remembering their digits, because they are no longer called by their full name, saving your last dollar for the money order to send to them. All in the name of love and believing people can and do change for the better. Not, to mention all of our brothers and sisters who are actually innocent, but behind bars.

Many years ago, I started an organization called Loving from a Distance to help our precious children of incarcerated parents. This organization is still dear to me.

Incarcerated, gone, lost, out of touch, many children love, seek to find and want to be connected with their parents. We cannot take a parent’s position, but we can make a difference. Do you have a child whose parent(s) is/are incarcerated or not with them for whatever reason?

Loving from a Distance wants to help.

Will you join us in our quest to care, protect, and love a child? Join our volunteer list today!

Call me personally at (269) 926-4241.

This mission is very important to me. This play is important and we want you to support our local producer, Kareemah El-Amin, by attending this powerful play.

For all who attend, you can return your ticket stub to the Benton Spirit and receive a classified, business-size of coupon ad, FREE!!

"Lockdown Legacy"

Synopsis

The current cast of “Lockdown Legacy” is comprised of Benton Harbor natives. El-Amin has spent the last several months cultivating raw talent from this community while exposing them to the complexity and nuance of a major theatrical production. “Lockdown Legacy” takes the form of a series of monologues spoken by a judge, police officer, homeboy, sister, two girlfriends, mother, father, son and a daughter of an inmate. El-Amin based the monologues on her own feelings as a visitor and from her observations of others in the visitation area of the county jail.

The monologue format suited the needs for “Lockdown Legacy,” because the “intimate and personal” nature of the material required a format that would allow the audience to get into each character’s head.

What people go through while their loved one is imprisoned is what the play’s message will depict. The play will show the conversations people have with themselves, the feelings of guilt and shame and depression.

The Play’s Importance

Despite the social and spiritual tolls incarceration causes members of the black community, many young black men remain strangely drawn to it. Going to prison is almost a rite of passage for so many African-American youths because they don’t realize the effect on the family. Because they don’t realize it, it’s like a badge of honor, “I did my time,” and it’s glamorized in movies.

By showing the effects incarceration has on family members, “Lockdown Legacy”’s aim is to inspire young black men to forsake the philosophy of the street and entertainment media that prison is cool. Young black men, especially, need to “realize we’re feeding a corrupt system. ... You don’t get to be a ‘big time’ baller. Once you’re incarcerated you’re just a number, and all your wealth and resources and esteem are gone. You’re just another brother in prison.”

Statistics

US Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Statistics. On June 30, 2007

- There were an estimated 509 sentenced prisoners per 100,000 U.S. residents – up from 501 at yearend 2006.
- The number of women under the jurisdiction of state or federal prison authorities increased 2.5% from yearend 2006, reaching 115,308, and the number of men rose 1.5%, totaling 1,479,726.
- At midyear 2007 there were 4,618 black male sentenced prisoners per 100,000 black males in the United States, compared to 1,747 Hispanic male sentenced prisoners per 100,000 Hispanic males and 773 white male sentenced prisoners per 100,000 white males.
- For all races, the number of adults in the correctional population increased from 1986-97; the number of blacks almost doubled and the number of whites rose by two-thirds.
- In 1997, 9% of the black population in the U.S. was under some form of correctional supervision compared to 2% of the white population and over 1% of other races.

Benton Spirit Helps Raise Money for Hurricane Victims at Fundraiser in South Bend

Hurricane Gustav caused the largest evacuation in U.S. history, with more than two million people evacuated from the Gulf Coast. At peak demand, the Red Cross has provided over one million meals daily, and currently serves more than 400,000 people.

Relief costs to the Red Cross for these storms are expected to exceed $70 million. Shelters in some areas are expected to stay open for one month before some residents will be able to reinherit their homes.

The St. Joseph County Red Cross Chapter, 3220 East Jefferson Boulevard, South Bend, is sending and reaying volunteers to assist with Hurricane Gustav. For more information, call (574) 234-0191.

An emergency response vehicle departed at 8:30 a.m. on August 28 to Hattiesburg, Miss. Eight more volunteers left for Louisiana and Texas over the Labor Day weekend. Other Red Cross trained volunteers from St Joseph County (who are in the Disaster Services Human Resource System (DSHRs) are also assisting.

To track Red Cross work in the field in the United States, visit www.redcross.org (maps of relief activities are available through links).

Letters to the Editor

We Deserve It!

By Trenton Bowens, Guest Columnist

You deserve someone that will fight for you… nothing against the people that we have elected. But don’t you think you deserve someone who will fight for a better economy? Someone who doesn’t want our troops in Iraq for the next 100 years? Don’t you think you deserve someone that is not the same as President George Bush? I encourage you to vote for a change. I urge you to vote for Barack Obama…

My Challenge to you, the people, the residents, and the friends of Benton Harbor – I challenge you to give back to your city. If it’s picking up trash or cleaning vacant yards I challenge you to take pride in your community because we deserve it!

To the elected officials – we, the residents, have put our confidence behind you; we have put our faith behind you to bring our City Government to the highest standard and you took our vote and promised us eager results. Yet you put yourself before the people. You can change the City Charter by changing meeting times, but what about the part of the City Charter that states if you miss three or more meetings you would be removed? We want public disclosure, because we deserve it!!!

We want to know if moving these meetings to three days a month will raise your stipend? We want our City Government to be open and with full disclosure. Honorable Mayor and city commissioners, we want change and not the same. The citizens deserve a straight shooter and someone that can get results.

Basic Tips Towards Healthier Weight

Reaching and maintaining a healthier weight is important for your overall health and well being. If you are significantly overweight, you have a greater risk of developing many diseases including high blood pressure, Type 2 diabetes, stroke, and some forms of cancer. For obese adults, even losing a few pounds or preventing further weight gain has health benefits.

If you are overweight or obese, here are some basic steps to help you gradually move toward a healthier weight:

1. Learn what to eat from each food group.
2. Focus on how much you eat. Watch your portion sizes.
3. Choose “nutrient-dense” forms of foods. These foods are packed with nutrients, but low in “extras” that add calories.
4. Get moving! Physical activity can help you reach and keep a healthier weight.
5. Follow your progress by tracking your food intake and physical activity. Check your weight weekly.

MyPyramid is a guide to help you choose foods to meet your nutrient needs while staying within your calorie limits.

tour of the grounds by Fred Gilmore. Many were impressed with the overall condition of the building, especially the media center.

The day’s events culminated with a reception, class photographs and buffet dinner at the DANK. Master of Ceremonies for the evening’s festivities was George Peapples (Class of ’58 Valedictorian) and the Benton Harbor Fight Song was led by Deelores Burgess Hillock.

Joining the reunion celebration on Saturday was the Mayor for the City of Benton Harbor, Wilce L. Cooke. No stranger to this group, he too was a graduate of the class of 1958.

“Who would had thought, 50 years later, that one of their very own classmates would be the Mayor of their beloved city. When asked about the reunion, Mayor Cooke said, “I was elated to be there, because I saw a lot of people whose families were pioneers in establishing a lot in the city of Benton Harbor. I found that even though many had moved away and become successful in their lives, they still felt very strongly about Benton Harbor and were very pleased to see the progress the city has made over the years.”

On Sunday, brunch was held at the home of Barbara Peeples. She is a retired teacher from the Benton Harbor Area Schools where she spent all of her professional career. Her love for Benton Harbor and its children has led Peeples to being more active in retirement than most people are in their professions. She continues to be involved in educational pursuits including the HOSTS program, Krasl Art Center and a consultant to Benton Harbor Schools during their Science Fairs.

Of the 368 graduates from the Class of 1958, sadly, 61 have passed away. Many moved away from the area to realize their dreams. Many remained in the area and have remained a part of the fabric that makes Benton Harbor one of the most unique communities in the country. We salute you Class of 1958.

GO TIGERS!
“God Must Come First in Your Schedule.”

By: Rev. Dr. Michael C. Carson
Spirit Columnist

“Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread?” (Isaiah 55:2)

King Solomon who in essence had “tried it all and did it all” came to the conclusion that there was only one true way to live. “Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep His commandments: for this is the whole duty of man.” (Ecclesiastes 12:13)

Without God, our final end is eternal death residing outside of Heaven.

King Solomon sets out to build God a house of worship and praise for the people to honor God. Solomon meretriciously lays out all of the plans and assemblies all the right people to complete this task.

But he comes to a stark reality. Even he, the King of Israel, in light of God’s glory felt unworthy to perform such a task. “Who am I then, that I should build him a house, save only to burn sacrifice before him?” Yet through God’s grace he accomplishes his task (2 Chronicles 3:1).

No matter how important we may find our importance quickly fades in God’s presence. Continue discharging the duties that God has blessed you with but remember that God still comes first! This is true humility.

Gladly serve and worship God through your time, talents, and treasure. Make sure that you view your house of worship as being worth your “first fruits” and not merely your “after-thoughts.”

Just a friendly reminder to every one of us who proclaim, “I really love the Lord!”

Peace With Justice, Be Blessed Real Good, Attend Worship, and Families Matter.

We hold many titles and positions in life. There are many dates and engagements for us to fulfill. And why wouldn’t we have “things to do, places to go, and people to meet?” God did not bless us with our gifts for them to lay dormant (St. Matthew 5:13-16).

But be cautious that your engagements do not become more pressing than your worshipping and serving of God. Never lose sight that without God you would not have a life in the first place.

Our importance cannot be the focal point of our existence to the degree that serving in God’s church becomes almost a “burden” because it cuts into our “valuable time” of being important in other areas of our life. If it had not been for God’s grace you would have “nowhere to go, nothing to do, and no one to meet.”

It is important to give our utmost care and concern, love and honor to our church home. How you treat your church through your time, talent, and treasure also makes a major statement concerning your care for, concern of, and love towards God.

God is our Creator and Sustainer. We exercise, go through extensive health care observances, purchase this and that to survive through God’s grace he accomplishes his task (2 Chronicles 3:1).

No matter how important we may find our importance quickly fades in God’s presence. Continue discharging the duties that God has blessed you with but remember that God still comes first! This is true humility.

Gladly serve and worship God through your time, talents, and treasure. Make sure that you view your house of worship as being worth your “first fruits” and not merely your “after-thoughts.”

Just a friendly reminder to every one of us who proclaim, “I really love the Lord!”

The City of Benton Harbor and Whirlpool Corporation are pleased to announce the upcoming Children’s Festival to be held in the Benton Harbor Arts District on Sunday, September 14, 2008, from 1:00 to 3:30 p.m. Benton Harbor children and their immediate family are invited to partake in this special event which will include complementary food, rides and entertainment, including local bands and artists. Neighboring vendors and Whirlpool Corporation’s portfolio of brands also will be represented at the festival.

Whirlpool Corporation operates in nearly every country around the world, and we are always proud to say we are headquartered in Benton Harbor,” said Jeff Noel, Vice President, Communications and Public Affairs, Whirlpool Corporation. “We believe this is a wonderful opportunity to join with the elected officials of Benton Harbor and host a gathering for the young people of the community. We simply want to thank the city for allowing us to have been a part of the community’s past and demonstrate how much we are looking forward to being a part of its future.”

“We appreciate the opportunity to showcase the fact that strong communities are the result of a partnership between business, schools and government,” said Benton Harbor City Manager Richard Marsh. “Whirlpool is a Fortune 500 company with almost 100 years of tremendous history. Benton Harbor is privileged to share in this wonderful event and many other endeavors. It is great that Whirlpool has extended this opportunity to the children of Benton Harbor. This festival is a great way to acknowledge the work that remains to be done, but also to celebrate all that has been accomplished and to do so for those that represent our future.”

A rtoberfest 2008 is a combination of the New Territory Arts Association’s (NTAA) "Fall Festival of the Arts" and a traditional Oktoberfest style celebration and is scheduled for Sunday, September 21 from 2 p.m. - 7 p.m. in the Benton Harbor Arts District.

Eager to build on the success of last year’s Artoberfest, the New Territory Arts Association’s (NTAA) has partnered with The Livery Micro Brewery for this year’s "Fall Festival of the Arts."

Great music will be featured on The Livery’s main stage while artist displays, food and beer will be available on the festival grounds.

NEW for this year’s Artoberfest:

• The very popular "Artists Garage Sale – featuring Cool Things that Artists Collect."

• Food for the festival will be freshly harvested from local farms and prepared by Lee LaVanway, Market Master of the Benton Harbor Fruit Market.

• The Livery will release their highly regarded Oktoberfest style lager for the event.

• All ages are welcome to enjoy the food and art; ages 21 and over will be allowed in The Livery. Music from the main stage will be piped to the outdoor spaces for all to enjoy.

• Blues, Rock and Reggae artists “The Kinsey Report” will headline at 5:30 pm; Benton Harbor’s own “Versatile” featuring Marcus Robinson, James Jones, and others will open the stage at 4 p.m. with their high energy brand of jazz/funk fusion. A $5 donation is suggested for those who wish to see the shows inside The Livery.
